Excerpt: . . . algorithm is used for controlling errors in the integration of the kinetic reaction rates and the equilibrium equations are solved at each intermediate step of the integration. A three-dimensional Cartesian coordinate system is used to define the region for reactive-transport simulations. Although flow and transport calculations are always three dimensional, the symmetry of conceptually one- and two-dimensional regions can be used to reduce the computational workload of the geochemical calculations. For these cases, the geochemical calculations are performed on a line or plane of nodes and then copied to the corresponding symmetric parts of the simulation region. 1. 5.
